

HEAVEN or HELL

(E Hondroudakis)

Life can be heaven
And life can be hell

Depends what happens
When you drink from the well

Life can be heaven
Or life can be hell

Seven planes together
Each a cosmos, from the other
Each a joy, each a sorrow
A crystal sphere
Not aware the other exists

Angels and devils
Brandishing blades
Flashing black flames
Cowering dark, flying light

Cavernous bereavement
Song of those bells
Life can be heaven
Or life can be hell

Love your Brother, Sister and Mother
Embrace the Father,
Love true, live well
Life can be heaven
And life can be hell

Trial after trial
Oh Lord, what I could tell
By your Grace I glimpse
From high above
How we are part of the seven planes
Myrrh and wisdom and holy candle

And make life close to heaven
And life away from hell

Not one oasis is a solitary home
But walk to all seven
Before you rest and spell

Because there's not one heaven
And there's not one hell

Grace healed my scars
Wiped my tears and filled my heart
Enveloped my soul
Brought love and
Gave me light
Raised me up
Where once I fell

Then all we knew was heaven
With no memory of hell.
